Edward Murphy, jr., Chairman of the Democratic State Committee: Corporation Counsel Clark, Police Commissioner Martin, W. Bourke Cockran, Edward S. Stokes, Civil Justice Peter Mitchell, Public Works Commissioner Gliroy, Mayor's Private Secretary Leicester Holme, Deputy Coroner Jenkins and other close political and social friends were among the number who wished him a safe voyage and a speedy return.

It was late when the successor of the late John Kelly retired, but while the sailors in the early morning watch were turning out, Mr. Croker appeared in the main cabin, resdy to receive his wife and a few intimate friends.

a few intimate friends.

Mrs. Croker, accompanied by Brother Justin, President of Manhattan College, and Rev. Father Grinnen, of the same institution, arrived at the pier at 6.30 o'clock. The devoted wife looked after the comforts of her husband and boys in a chesty manner, but when the bell was rung for "all ashore" she burst into tears and had to be led down the gangplank.

tears and had to be led down the gang-plank.

On the long tables in the main cabin were many floral offerings from the freedes of Mr. Croker. Count Kapponyi, J. B. Boden, David Leventritt, M. F. Knudson, County Clerk Edward F. Reilly and John G. H. Meyers were among the gentlemen whose cards were attached to the flowers.

Park Commissioner Gallup, Michael Beilly, Warden Fallon, of Bellevue Hos-pital: Edward Coppers and Alderman Brown, of the Second Assembly District, were the last persons to shake hands with Mr. Croker before his wife kissed him good-by.

good-by.

The ex-Chamberlain looked careworn and weary as he shook hands with his friends. In regard to his health Mr. Croker said that he did not feel well, and was not well if his physician knew anything about it. He hoped to return strong and hearty, otherwise he would not have someth rest and recreating. not have sought rest and recreation.

Mr. Down is the only Republican among the bondsmen.

The feeling that the office of City Chamberlain is unnecessary and an expensive one is voiced by every one who is acquainted with the city's finances.

Tammany Hall office-holders and politicians, however, are chary of saying anything upon the question at the present time, although it is known that Mr. Croker frequently expressed his opinion that the city would benefit were the office abolished.

The new Chamberlain was asked to-day what he thought of the proposition.

Mr. Crain is a wise young man, and he concluded he would have nothing to say.

Set on Fire by Electricity. Fire in the basement of the Johnson Suilding 64 Exchange place, corner of New street, at 7, 40 this morning, caused damage to the amount of about $1,000, fully insured.
The fire originated in the wasteroom, and is said by the janitor to have been caused by an electric-light wire.

Lingered Between Life and Death.

Mrs. Geo. P. Smoots, a highly cultivated and estimable lady, of Prescott, Ark., writes under date of April 22, 1889. "During the Sammer of 1887 my eyes became inflamed and my atomach and liver simost hoplessly disordered. Nothing I ate agreed with me. I took chronic distribute, and for some time my life was despaired of by my family. The leading physicians of the country were consulted, and the mediennes administered by them never did say permanent good, and I lingered between life and death, the latter being preferable to the agonies I was enduring. In May, 1888, I became diagnated with physicians and their mediennes, I dropped them all, and depended solely on Swift's Specific (S. S. B.), a few bottless of which made me permanently well—well fron then until now."
